

The 19th International Conference on Corporate Social Responsibility (ICCSR) & The 10th Organisational Governance Conference (OGC)

Social Responsibility in a Changing Era

Mauritius, 7 – 10 September 2022

For our 19th conference we will travel to the idyllic island of Mauritius where our hosts will be the Université des Mascareignes. The conference will be organized jointly by the Université des Mascareignes and the Social Responsibility Research Network. After the disruptions of the past couple of years we are looking forward to this event and to joining with you in Mauritius.

Offers to run workshops, symposia, poster sessions, themed tracks or alternative events are especially welcome. Please contact either Shahla (shahlaseifi@yahoo.com) or David (daveidacrowther@aol.com) with suggestions.

Although preference will be given to full papers, abstracts of 200-500 words will also be considered. All papers and abstracts should be sent by 30th June 2022 by email to daveidacrowther@aol.com. No more than 2 papers will be accepted from any author. Final version of the accepted papers will be required by 10th of August 2022.

Publications

One of the distinguishing features of the conferences is SRRNet's focus on subsequent publication of papers presented. SRRNet publishes at least one book of selected paper from each conference but also encourages every participant to publish their work. The Network currently publishes 2 fully refereed and indexed official journals in association with Emerald Publishing: Social Responsibility Journal & Technological Sustainability. The Network also publishes 3 book series, within which the book(s) from the conference will be published: Approaches to Global Sustainability, Markets and Governance – published by Springer. Developments on Corporate Governance and Responsibility – published by Emerald. Science, Technology and Sustainability – published by World Scientific. All books published in these series are fully indexed.

Call for Papers

The Covid pandemic has caused serious effects throughout the corporate world and there has been a need to adjust and adapt. There has equally been a need to rethink the ideas of corporate social responsibility. Additionally governments and society have changed and needed to adapt. The effects are still playing out in the world of CSR. It is important that we recognise these changes and adapt – sharing best practice from around the world and we seek to recover.

We are in an era of change and this can be expected to change. This is pertinent as we seek to recover as the World Health Organisation has already warned that future pandemics are inevitable so we must prepare to face them, hopefully in a better way than we have managed with Covid-19. At the same time the United Nations has warned that, while the pandemic and effects might be serious, there is a far more serious crisis facing the world and that is climate change. So we need to recognize the present and future crises and adapt. We need also to focus upon the longer term objective of ensuring sustainability. Accordingly we have set the theme for this conference as focusing upon social responsibility in the changing era.

This conference is designed to act as a forum for the debate and analysis of contemporary issues in this broad area. It is intended to attract people from a wide variety of disciplines and geographic regions for an exchange of views.

The conference is intended to be interdisciplinary and welcomes contributions from anyone who has a perspective on this important issue. Papers are welcome on any topic related to this broad issue and suggested themes for papers include:
